

Letter of Endorsement for Mary Ellen Mann:

I am so happy to support Mary Ellen Mann in her efforts to become a renowned speaker and expand her Last Battle empire. She graciously spoke to a nearly packed room full of students at our annual STARS National Conference, hosted by FRIENDS FIRST during the summer of 2015. The students hailed from various backgrounds, both demographically and personally, and were primarily high school-aged. Overall, the students were very receptive to her presentation, appreciating the topic of overcoming their obstacles and standing up for what they believe in, without fear or regret. This greatly resonated with a co-worker who was also present during Mary Ellen's talk, describing it as excellent and profound.

With that being said, I would greatly recommend Mary Ellen as a speaker for her relatability, strong content, versatility and passion for the message she is trying to convey and the work she is aiming to do. She is certainly headed for lasting impact within the communities she serves, but can best do that through the ability to have an outreach as a professional speaker. Mary Ellen is definitely a public figure you will want to partner with.

Sincerely,
