To whom it may concern,

"I have had the wonderful opportunity to attend an in-service training titled "Prevention Issues with Trauma/Abuse" led by Mary Ellen Mann at the EDC of Denver. Mary Ellen offers a vast range of clinical skills and qualities that sufficiently meets the needs of all her clients, as well as the many professional audiences she has trained. She presents highly professional, compassionate and engages her audience with authentic encouragement and empowerment to spread messages and awareness, not only to the client population, but to the entire community. Mary Ellen has the unwavering ability to present material and content with such passion and authenticity, all while still gently joining with her audience in such an intimate manner that you feel you have known and consulted with her for years. Mary Ellen has stayed current in her field, provided the professional community with education and the latest research, and is considered an expert in the field of Trauma and Sexual Abuse. I have had the opportunity to professionally collaborate with Mary Ellen Mann these past 10 years and it is her exceptional professional and personal influence that inspires me to challenge my own growth and excellence as a fellow clinician." Mary Ellen Mann is a true gift to all who have the opportunity to cross her path!"

Warmly,
